Cookies

Skeppsbron Skatt's website uses cookies. It is a legal requirement that anyone visiting a website that uses cookies must be informed that the website uses cookies, what they are used for and how to block them.

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a text file that a web server requests be saved to the user's computer. It provides the web server with text information about how the user surfs.

There are three kinds of cookies: permanent, temporary, and third-party cookies.

- Permanent cookies are stored on the computer or mobile device for a longer time. They have a preset date on which they are deleted. They can be stored for a maximum of 24 months.
- Temporary cookies are stored temporarily on your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. They are deleted as soon as you close the page.
- Third-party cookies As the name suggests, third-party cookies are sent by a different website from the one that saved the cookie to the user's computer. This type of cookie is designed to track visitors' internet activities.

Managing cookies

- Delete and block our cookies

You can block cookies by activating the feature in your browser that allows you to refuse to accept all or some cookies. But if you use your browser to block all cookies (including essential cookies), you might not be able to visit all or some parts of our website. If you have not adjusted your browser settings to refuse cookies, our system will issue cookies as soon as you access our site. 'Turn off' or 'delete' cookies will not prevent identification of your device or collection of related data.

- Turn off cookies

Browsers have features that enable you to change your cookie settings. These settings can normally be found in your browser's 'options' or 'preferences' menus (www.allaboutcookies.org). You can also use your browser's 'help' button to obtain more information.

- Withdraw consent

When you have given us your consent to use of cookies, we store a cookie on your computer or device to remember this next time. That cookie will expire at regular intervals. If you want to withdraw your consent at any time, you must delete your cookies in browser settings.
